

Hohel O'kura 19.6.73

It might be appropriate to point out at the beginning of this new volume of Prof. Nozer's remarkable collection <sup>and</sup> to be reminded that scientists are people.

Success or failure in accomplishing their scientific goals depends therefore largely on how these men or women are motivated, encouraged and guided in their work.

Arnold Grossi
Hoffmann-ia Roche