Document Templates

Dear Author,

The document template files have been created to assist authors in preparing manuscripts for the European Journal of Inorganic Chemistry or the European Journal of Organic Chemistry. Use of these easy-to-follow tools facilitates manuscript preparation, reduces revision and shortens publication times.

The files eurjournw97.dot (192 KB) for PC (MS Word 97) or eurjourn.dot (40 KB) for Mac (MS Word 6/95) can be downloaded from our Guidelines on the World Wide Web (<http://www.wiley-vch.de/home/eurjic> or /eurjoc) where more information on the use of the files may be found.

To Use These Templates (on PC or Mac):

Copy the appropriate template file into your (MS WORD) TEMPLATE directory. Usually when you start Word and begin typing in the empty document window, Word bases the document on a standard template called Normal(.dot). To use the document template: Choose the NEW command on the FILE menu and a dialog box will appear. Select the template in the list and make sure that the option DOCUMENT and not TEMPLATE is marked. [If the template is not on the list, then it has not yet been copied into your template directory.] A document based on the template should now be open.

Note: Depending on the configuration, your browser might want to save the file with an extension different than ".dot"! In this case, please change the extension to ".dot" before saving the file!
